CLASS OF 1941

OFFICERS

President ..... C. Jay Sullivan

Vice-President ..... Gustavo Marquez

Secretary ..... Alfonso Hamady

Treasurer ..... Julian Ferris, Jr.

The Class elected its officers in October, giving the Presidency to Jay Sullivan, Battalion Commander. In its ranks the Class has many of the cadets who have been leaders in scholarship, in military life, and in athletics over the past four years. Honor rank in scholarship has been won by Aschenbrenner, Baquero, Hamady, Keegan, Marsal, McLaughlin, Munden, Rieser, Serna, Stampfl and Weller. In athletics Gus Marquez, a star in soccer, swimming and tennis, and captain of all three sports, has shared top honors with Dick McLaughlin, who has been captain and regular performer in baseball, basketball and football. The other leading athletes in the Class have included Alper, Aschenbrenner, Denz, Ferris, Gingraux, Griffin, Hamilton, Hansen, McLaughlin, Posey, Raggio, Schaffer, Smith, Stampfl, Sullivan, Thistlethwaite and Weller, all of whom have won letter awards in varsity and junior varsity competition.

The Class has eight Captains, seven First Lieutenants, six Second Lieutenants, the Sergeant Major, two First Sergeants, six Sergeants, and two Corporals.

In every phase of Academy life the graduation of the Class of 1941 will be felt keenly by faculty members and undergraduate cadets. We all hope that the future of every Senior will be marked by happiness and success. Good luck, 1941!

JUNIOR CLASS

President ..... RICHARD CROWE

Vice-President ..... MICHAEL SIMCICH

Secretary ..... FRED JOY

Treasurer ..... HORACE HURLEY

The class organized soon after the opening of the school year, electing its officers and making tentative plans for the year. The big feature of the year was the annual Junior Prom on the weekend of February 21 and 22, a most successful event. The committees for the Prom were organized as follows: Programs, Tad Skladzien, Justin Lederman and Ray Croop; Finance, Horace Hurley, Fritz Simcich, Snuffy Smith, Bernie Mosquera and Norman Wasserman; Decorations, Fred Joy, Joe Lillis, Creed Tucker and Doug Armstrong; Music, Michael Simcich, Willy Rieser and Bob Russell; Refreshments, Alberto Olivares, Tom Pond and John Kraft.

In scholarship the Junior ace is Doug Armstrong, but several other members have kept their averages in the eighties, and several keys should fall into Junior hands in June. In the military side of things, Mike Simcich, Willy Rieser, Dick Crowe, Horace Hurley, Fritz Simcich, Tad Skladzien, Fred Joy have sabres and Sam Brownes. A generous sprinkling of Sergeants and Corporals also hail from the Junior ranks. In both Varsity and Jayvee sports every squad has had a good representation from the Class. Among the athletes have been Crowe, Snuffy Smith, Horace Hurley, Fritz Simcich, Tad Skladzien, Moe Harris, John Kraft, Willy Rieser, Bernie Mosquera, Mesle, Carlos Gonzales and Mike Simcich.

SOPHOMORE CLASS

The Class of 1943 has already shown that it has its share of brains and brawn. The scholars include Apicella, Fine, Feistman, Pedro Tinoco, Scheanblum, Bill Robinson, Art Schelling, Dick La-Cava, McGeeney and Jose Rangel. The Class has had its share of stripes with a sizeable total of non-coms in the Band and in the companies. In athletics members of the class have gathered a number of Varsity and Jayvee letters in the different sports, with Apicella, Christman, Marquet, Mesle, Robinson, Perdomo, Carlos Serna, Turner, and Wilson among those who have won athletic awards.

FRESHMEN AND SUB-FRESHMEN

This group, made up of the Classes of 1944 and 1945, includes some of the best students and most promising athletes in the Corps. The honors for scholarship rest among Jose Safdeye and George Dodaro, Gold Star Cadets, and the following Silver Star students: Sepe, Steinfield, Goldstein, Bryson, Wyssman, Fernando Tinoco, and Donald Brink. In the realm of athletics, Atwood, Brink, Di Salvo, Faulkner, Gerstl, Ramos, Swing, Frank Sullivan, and Webber have shown real promise. Varsity letters having been awarded to Atwood, Faulkner, Ramos and Sullivan for their work on the swimming team. With a good representation from these classes on every squad, the teams of the next four years will probably be built around some of these cadets. Stripes have already been awarded to several from this group, and during the coming year many of the non-commissioned posts will be filled from the Freshman and Sub-Freshman ranks.

The Junior School library has been a popular place this year, and through special class work that has been designed to acquaint the boys with the great authors and their best works, a great deal of interest in reading has been stimulated. The American authors Longfellow, Mark Twain, James Russell Lowell, James Whitcomb Riley, Washington Irving and Edgar Allan Poe have been among the writers whose works have been on exhibition during the year, and many of the younger cadets have added selected works by these authors to their own bookshelves.

The woodworking classes have met throughout the year, and the boys have been taught to know the uses of the different tools, to identify different kinds of wood, and to work safely in the different fundamental processes of woodworking. The boys have been given opportunities for the planning and development of special projects, and several of them have shown ingenuity and skill in this phase of their training.

In athletics the Junior School cadets had a very successful fall season. Both the football and soccer teams played several outside games. During the winter term, basketball was played every day, and swimming was enjoyed by those whose interest ran toward water sports. Several basketball games were played with the upper school Small League as well as against Lincoln Hall, Lake Mahopac and other visitors. Two swimming meets were held. During the spring term many baseball games were played with outside teams, and a group also played intramural lacrosse.

The best athletes during the year were Paul Holmes, Lloyd Singley, Luis Larin, Bill Duke, John Battiloro, Rodolfo Calvo and Bob Young.

The first notable event of the fall term was the annual hike and picnic. The junior school cadets and their masters hiked to Lounsbury Lake, and a small group continued two miles to Spitzenberg Mountain. At noon everyone reassembled at the lake for a fine dinner. During the day the boys played games, fished and explored the surrounding woods. Upon returning to school in the afternoon, the entire group had a long swim in the pool. Saturday evenings this year have been given to recreation: games in the gymnasium, movies, and other entertainments. Outstanding events during the year have been the Hallowe'en Party, the Christmas Party, Mrs. Bucher's readings from her own poems, and the Easter Party.

The Neatness competition, based upon personal and room inspections, was won at least once by every hall, but the south end of Second Hall, made up of Bill Duke, Isaac Safdeye, Edward Safdeye, A. Serna, Kroog, Kaplan, Trostler, Rosenfeld and Lederman, was the most consistent winner. The Conduct awards, based upon weekly ratings of Excellent, Fair, or Failure, were given at the end of each term, and all honor Conduct cadets were given medals. The winners this year have been Toledo, Lachiver, Battiloro, Fischer, Morris, Bill Duke, Miraglia, Edward Safdeye, Isaac Safdeye, Serna, Torrey and Young.

Scholarship recognition, in the form of bronze and silver stars, has been given to those boys whose averages have been 85% or higher. This year the honors have gone to Baker, White, Trostler, Goldberg, Rockey, Wills, Torrey, Garrison, Isaac Safdeye, Toledo and Kaplan.

The Freshmen, Sub Freshmen, and Junior School Glee Clubs joined with the Senior Club to present the third annual Christmas Pageant on the Sunday preceding Christmas Leave. The Junior School Glee Club, directed by Mrs. Lightner, was led by the following officers: President Trostler, Vice-President Ellner, Secretary Gerton and Treasurer Marshall.

The Varsity Club, founded by Major MacCready in 1922, is committed "to give unqualified support to the Academy in its efforts to build men." The membership is made up of Varsity lettermen, and a few honorary memberships are given each year to cadets who are leaders in other phases of Academy life. The Club sponsored several Saturday night informal dances during the year, and the Monday night "feeds" were held periodically. In keeping with its policy of making some permanent contribution to the furnishings of the clubroom, the Club has renovated the pool table and made some other improvements.

RADIO BROADCAST TO LATIN AMERICA

On Wednesday evening, February 26, the Band, the Senior Glee Club, and some twenty other cadets took part in the first international short wave radio broadcast to be presented for a Latin American audience. The Band played "Blue and White" and one March, and the Glee Club sang two selections. Mr. Bucher and Major MacCready spoke in English, and several representatives of countries in Central and South America were interviewed before the microphone. The half-hour program was heard very clearly in the countries to which it was directed, and several reports were received within a few days from parents of present cadets and also from alumni. Although it was a novel experience for all of the cadets who took part, everyone carried his part of the program very creditably.

MUSICAL ORGANIZATIONS

The Band had a successful year. Thirty-eight cadets, under Captain Carl Aschenbrenner, played in the National Broadcasting studios for the short wave broadcast to South America, and on Pan-American Day the musicians took part in making the transcription which was played over the short wave system of the NBC to Latin American countries. One of the strong features this past year has been the presence of a majority of younger cadets who will return in September to play with the unit. The losses by graduation will be much less than in other years. As usual, one of the high points in the year will be the annual concert which is given during the last week of May.

The Senior Glee Club, under its officers, President Dick Tannous, Vice-President Julian Ferris, Secretary-Treasurer Murray Bogel, and Librarian Dick Cowe, marshalled thirty-two members for its third year. The broadcast to Latin America was a highlight for the Club which sang two selections. The big feature of the Spring Term was the Minstrel Show which was given at the Academy on Friday, May 9, and at Edgewood Park Junior College on the following evening. An especially pleasant evening was spent at Edgewood Park, as a dance followed the performance.

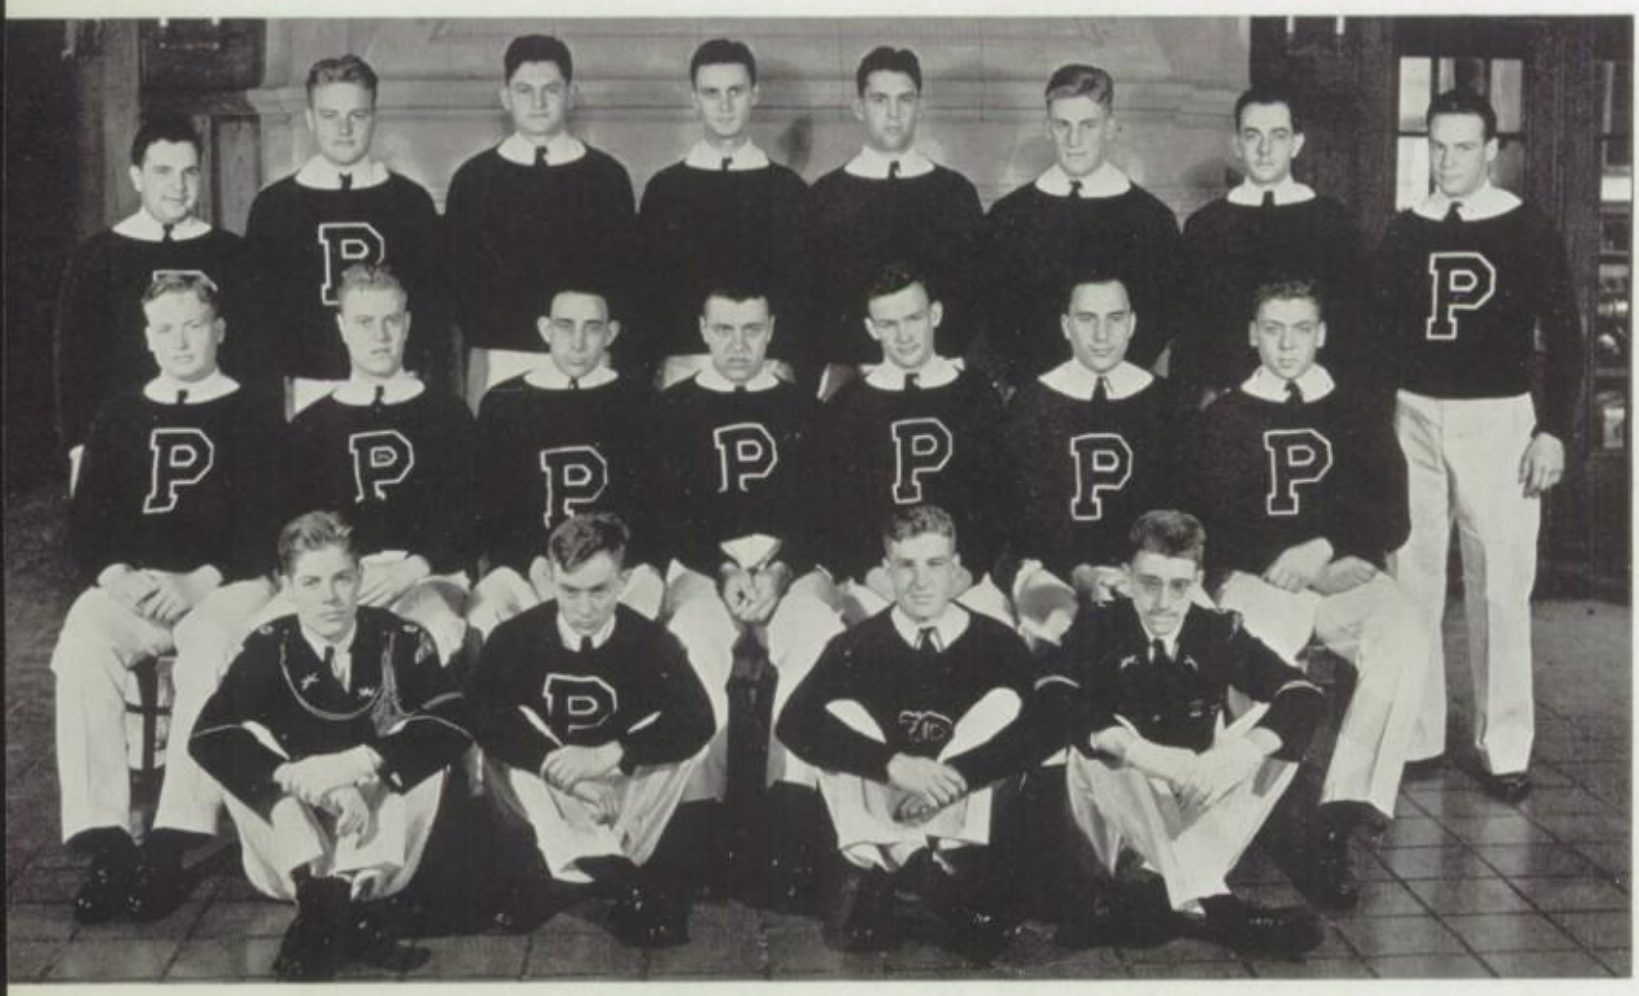
RIFLE TEAM

The Rifle Team suffered the loss of seven of the first ten men through graduation, and the candidates who reported to Captain Doyle this year were mostly inexperienced boys who had done no competitive shooting. A squad of twenty-five cadets reported after Thanksgiving Leave, and they were broken up into small sections for instruction and practice. The first ten high scorers were given Rifle Team Medals, the presentation taking place during the parade on Sunday, April 26. The trophy for highest score went to Cadet Marquet.

The first ten high scorers in order were:

1. William Marquet
2. Arthur M. Hansen
3. Roderick W. Miller
4. Robert B. Armstrong
5. William Robinson
6. Lewis B. Siegel
7. Norman E. Wasserman
8. James H. Munden
9. Ali Gomez
10. Robert W. Scheanblum

ATHLETICS



FOOTBALL

Potentially, in size and weight, a powerful aggregation, the team never found itself. Flashing occasionally and then sinking to sloppy, loose play, the performance during the season was generally poor. Lacking the spark and the smoothness that make an eleven click consistently, the team turned in one of the poorest seasons in P. M. A. football history.

THE SEASON

The first practice session was held on September 26, when nearly forty candidates reported. The first game was played on October 14 with Katonah, and the Cadets were victorious, 6 to 0. Four days later the team went to Brewster to play the high school junior varsity there, and Cadet over-confidence combined with a smart and very well-directed Brewster offensive to leave our team on the short end of a 7 to 0 score. On November 4 the team met a group of high school students playing under the name of "The Golden Bears." Still smarting from their Brewster defeat, the team settled down to work at once and put away six points in the first half and another touchdown in the second half to take the game, 12 to 0. In keeping with the usual custom for Academy Jayvee elevens, the Cadets met the High School junior varsity on November 8. Superior football and an abundance of good reserves left little doubt about the outcome as the schoolboys rolled up a substantial lead in the opening quarter. The Jayvees came back in the last period, and the game ended at 27 to 6. Captain Gingraux and Bill Marquet both saw some action with the Varsity during the season.

THE SEASON

Keeping up what has become a tradition at P. M. A., the soccer team turned in an excellent record, winning eight games and tying three for an undefeated season. The greatest triumph came on October 25, when the team went to West Point and earned a 2 to 0 win over the Plebe aggregation. Although graduation had taken some of Coach Gabriel's dependables, the cadets rallied under the sparkling leadership of Gus Marquez and produced an enviable season's play.

THE SEASON

The opening practices gave some promise for the season to come. The material looked good, and the boys seemed to have height and speed enough to make a capable, fast-moving five. As soon as the season was underway, however, things began to look rather dismal, and as the successive Saturdays rolled by, only two victories stood on the books to give a little sunshine. The team beat Connecticut State Junior College by a 44 to 32 score in the second game and took the Alumni, on Junior Prom weekend, 57 to 29. Every other game was a defeat, and some of them, lost by a narrow margin, were hard to take. Poor passing, erratic shooting, and the inability to click gave P. M. A. one of the poorest seasons the Cadets have had in recent years.

THE SEASON

Playing an eight-game schedule, the Jayvees won three and dropped five. Opening against Xavier junior varsity, the team lost by a six-point margin, and they went through the entire season without striking a consistent stride. In the last game the Peekskill Cardinals, playing a return game, took a 44 to 22 win. The team felt the loss of Aschenbrenner, who was moved up to the Varsity, but the poor showing in the lost games was due to inaccuracy and generally erratic play.

The high scorers in the Large League were Albertal with 44 points for the season; Jay Sullivan, 43; Rod Miller, 39; Irving Schaffer, 35; Frank Marx, 29. In the title games, Ehrlich scored 14 points, Ferris, A., tallied 8 points, and Schaffer made a total of 6.

The team was able to take the title from the Gold five without much trouble in two straight games. The Blues included Bond, Faulkner, Gerstl, Honsacker, Muth, Sepe, and Webber. THE SEASON

Although six of last season's regulars were graduated in June, the arrival of several novices and the development of some of the 1939-40 reserves gave the team enough strength to make a good showing for the season. The performance of Apicella and Faulkner in the free style, the showing of Ramos in the breast stroke, and Frank Sullivan's steady improvement in the back stroke were highlights, while Thistlethwaite turned in several excellent diving scores. Gus Marquez was his usual self, supplying the spark and keeping up his end of things generally.

THE SEASON

Favored by an early spring, the team was able to start its practice on the diamond on March 31. A round of practice games with Peekskill High School gave Coach Rothrock a chance to try several different infield combinations and to work his pitchers under fire. The Cadets took a 4 to 1 victory from the schoolboys on April 23, but three days later at New Brunswick, New Jersey, they lost their opener to Rutgers Freshmen, 12 to 7. This defeat was largely due to infield errors. On April 30 at home the team dropped an 8 to 1 game to Scarsborough, and on May 2 the losing streak continued to the tune of 10 to 3, lacking the punch to overcome the Pelham High School lead. In their third home game on May 3 the team struck its stride in a 4 to 3 victory over St. John's.

THE SEASON

The Cadet tennis squad was hard hit by graduation, and the opening practice saw only two lettermen, Marquez and Aschenbrenner, returning to action. Captain Marquez, playing his last season for P. M. A., has never been defeated during his three years on the team, and he and Carl Aschenbrenner are counted on to balance a team that is composed largely of unseasoned newcomers. Fortunately, the other candidates are for the most part freshmen and sophomores who should develop for the future. The team dropped its opening match to Peekskill High, 3 to 2, but on the following Saturday the Cadets rallied to a 3 to 2 victory over St. John's.

THE SEASON

Starting with good weather and a fine playing surface after Spring Leave, the squad began conditioning drills and practice sessions. Most of the cadets reporting to Coach Gabriel were inexperienced, but a nucleus of veterans in some of the key positions was available. In the opening game with the Alumni on April 19, the Cadets came off with an 8 to 4 victory. In the second game, with Yale Freshmen at New Haven, the team was held to the short end of a 6 to 3 score. Travelling to West Point on April 30 without three first-stringers, the team dropped a 7 to 3 game to the Plebes. In a home games with C. C. N. Y. Jayvees on May 3, the Cadets took a 5 to 0 victory. While many of the players need seasoning, signs of improvement in the stick-handling and in the all-round play promise a better showing as the season progresses.

SCHOLASTIC HONORS

Each term those cadets whose scholastic averages for all subjects are 80% or higher are awarded stars. This group, the "Star Cadets," represents that sort of scholastic achievement which the Academy is gratified to honor by special recognition. The Star group for the first term of this school year was as follows:

Apicella, Armstrong, D., Aschenbrenner, Baquero, Bogel, Brink, Bryson, De Gil, Dodaro, Feistman, Fine, Goldstein, Hamady, Harris, Keegan, Kraft, J. VARSITY CAPTAINS

DIRECTORY

For the convenience of the members of the Class of 1941, who may want to look up some of their old classmates five years hence, the 1941 REVEILLE publishes this directory of "First Places to Look for Your Friends." When in doubt as to the whereabouts of any member of the class in 1946, we suggest that you follow this routine: (1) Try the locations listed below, (2) Call the Bureau of Missing Persons, and (3) Turn the whole matter over to any good fortune teller. The F. B. I. should be used only as a last resort.

Aschenbrenner. Will be found in cafe society somewhere. Probably can be found in Buchanan or Ossining, if not in Peekskill.

Alley. With Pond, which means anywhere from Little America to the North Pole.

Alper. On the Atlantic seaboard, probably near a race track, a Minsky show, or a clambake.

Armstrong. Try the Army, which may mean a lot of looking around, but the wavy hair will be easy to spot.

Baquero. On any one of the Caribbean islands, probably in a white suit with a brief case full of English notes.

Beard. Possibly in the Navy. If so, get permission to visit the engine room and the galley.

Bogel. Check all sorority dances in New York City. If unsuccessful, try Westchester County, Long Island and Mount Vernon.

Constant. Parsonsfield, Maine. Don't ask us where it is.

Cuellar. Bogota, Colombia. Look for short, prosperous-looking man carrying an M. I. T. diploma.

Denz. Any restaurant where you can get a two dollar meal for two bits.

Doyle. Mineola's your best bet, unless he's made up his mind about college.

Ehrlich. Yellow Springs, Ohio. The Antioch Plan, you know. They just go to college indefinitely out there.

Ferris. Venezuelan back country. Check map for new gold, diamond and oil fields, after you have checked Manhattan's better spots.

Franklin. Take a look around Miami Beach before you waste any time elsewhere. May be working, but we doubt it.

Gingraux. Check all Southern college catalogs. It isn't going to be easy to get him to leave the old campus after he's made his contacts, so he'll probably take the five year course.

Griffin. Drive through the tobacco lands of the Connecticut River Valley, stopping now and then to blow a bugle. He'll answer any call except Reveille.

Guimoye. After you have tried the other possibilities, go to the nearest weight-lifters' convention.

Haggerty. Nobody will ever get him away from Greenwich again, so go there and keep an eye out for a big plate glass window marked "J. P. Haggerty."

Hamady. If you don't pick up a trail on this one within a few days, drop back to P. M. A. and watch Company E. He'll be back to see his old outfit sooner or later.

Hamlin. Look for the prettiest church steeple in Newtown, Connecticut, unless the Navy takes him off to sea. If he does go nautical, you'll have some time finding him. The Navy does something to the quiet fellows.

Hamilton. There's a town named New Hartford, New York, but look everywhere else first.

Hansen. We have heard about Vermont, but we are very sure that certain areas in Brooklyn will be a better bet.

Hoffman. Bridgeport is in Connecticut. Look for the nearest oil business.

Keegan. Flushing won't hold this boy very long, so don't waste any time out yonder. Call Yonkers before looking far afield.

Levy. Don't be misled by all the talk about Houston and Rice Institute. Texas is a big state, and this lad gets around.

Levi. He may be out of Treadwell's by 1946, but we doubt it. Check sales figures for Pepsi-cola, ham and cheese. Find the spot where sales are best, and then begin looking for Henry.

Lopez. It will be Havana, but that's a lot of territory. We suggest that you give this one a lot of time, on a cruise, perhaps.

Marquez. If he's made up his mind by 1946, look over the lists of Venezuelan mining engineers, civil engineers, and dentists before you begin checking the swimming pools, tennis courts, night clubs, and rhumba establishments.

Marsal. Just a Cuban lawyer or newspaper man in Havana. Listen for the longest and loudest argument you ever heard in Spanish. He'll be right in the middle of it.

Marx. Medical School, probably in Maryland. Look for stout, professional young man in white smock.

McLaughlin. Newton, Massachusetts, is the home port, but he may be far, far away by 1946. Will not answer to name "General" after June, 1941.

Miesemer. We hate to break down and admit it, but you will probably find this one in or near Valley Stream, Long Island. No imagination and no sense of adventure.

Miller. We have heard a lot of talk about the Army and the Navy, but we still think Bridgeport is your best bet, unless he's still in the color guard.

Munden. We don't know why, but it looks like the Panama Canal Zone to us. A nice contact for a Grace Line cruise, incidentally.

McCoy. This is the time to call in the F. B. I.

Perkins. You can never tell about trombone players, but we feel that some fortune teller will know where he is.

Posey. We'd try Peekskill's Junior League first, although he covers the whole Hudson Valley, after a fashion.

Raggio. Stay in Manhattan. A city slicker, if we ever saw one.

Schaffer. Home address: Mount Vernon; Business: Steel; Probable whereabouts: The Bronx. It will take at least five years for him to get back in the ball game in that league.

Schoenberg. New Jersey, and Paterson, of all places. Much talk of Philadelphia and Manhattan, but we still say Paterson.

Serna. Bogota, Colombia, but don't ask us what he'll be doing there.

Siegel. Look for the slip-horn, and listen for the full tones. No matter where he goes, you can trace him, if your hearing's normal.

Smith. If he's very far away from Denz, we'll pay your carfare. You should check all big-meal-low-price spots first. The best free lunch in town should be watched regularly. Where there's food, there's Hank.

Stampfl. Due to a late start in Peekskill cafe society, he will probably be back in town in 1946, following up the last few leads Carl gave him.

Sterling. You could try Virginia and Washington, D. C., but we think Maine is your best possibility. Stay close to certified clam flats.

Sullivan. Back in Manhattan by 1946. Look for small dapper young man just out of college and really ready to go places, any kinds of places.

Thistlethwaite. It could be Delaware, but you can't be sure; we'd try reading tea leaves for this one.

Weller. Alterman's on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Try the other corner on Mondays and Wednesdays.

Winter. Greenwich, Connecticut, is in again. Should not be confused with Haggerty. Probably can be found on the 8:18 and the 5:35 any weekday.

PAN-AMERICAN DAY

One of the high spots of the year came on Sunday, April 20, when the Corps received the national colors of five Latin American countries. The flags were given by cadets from Colombia, Costa Rica, Cuba, the Dominican Republic and Mexico, and a speaker and a color-bearer took part in the presentation of each color. The presentation ceremony featured the following cadets:

Speakers	Color-Bearers
ELIAS MANPOLA	FERNANDO VELEZ
Colombia
CARLOS GONZALEZ	ENRIQUE URIBE
Costa Rica
LORENZO FRAU MARSAL	JOSE LOPEZ
Cuba
MANUEL BAQUERO	GEORGE CHOTIN
Dominican Republic
ALFREDO LARIN	LUIS LARIN
Mexico

Favored by perfect weather, the affair was attended by a record crowd of parents and friends. Senor Eugenio Florit of the Cuban Consulate General in New York City was the speaker of the afternoon, and other Latin American guests were on the speakers' platform. The entire ceremony was recorded by the National Broadcasting Company and broadcast by short wave to Latin America during the evening.
